

Cliff S. Thrasher

---

Executive Vice President, CFO and Treasurer • Georgia Power

Cliff Thrasher is Executive Vice President, CFO and Treasurer for Georgia Power. In his current role, Cliff has responsibility for Georgia Power's accounting and financial activities and structure.

Cliff was born in Atlanta in 1950. He grew up in East Point and graduated from Headland High School in 1968. He received an Associate of Science degree from Kennesaw Junior College in 1970.

Cliff has over 30 years of experience with Southern Company and its affiliates. He began his career with Georgia Power Company in 1970 as an accounting clerk in the Invoice Accounting department. In 1974, he became responsible for maintaining the general ledger and preparing financial statements. From 1979 to 1985, he served as Accounting Research Manager. In 1985, Cliff became Manager of Cost Accounting and Accounting Research. The following year Cliff was promoted to Regulatory Accounting Manager with responsibility for preparing Georgia Power's 1987 rate case. That same year Cliff was elected Assistant Comptroller. In 1995, he was named Vice President and Comptroller of Georgia Power. Before assuming his current position, he served as Vice President, Comptroller and CFO of Southern Company Generation and Southern Power.

While working full-time, Cliff attended Georgia State University at night and received a Bachelor of Business Administration degree in Management in 1972. In 1997, he completed the Stanford Executive Program.

Active in several civic and community affairs activities, Cliff serves on the boards of the Fernbank Museum of Natural History and Georgia Council on Economic Education.