

Mickey A. Brown

Executive Vice President, Customer Service Organization • Georgia Power

Since January 2005, Mickey Brown has served as Executive Vice President of the Customer Service Organization at Georgia Power. He is responsible for the construction, design and maintenance of the electric system serving some two million customers statewide. He also leads the company's Customer Service and Sales Organizations.

keting and general management roles. From May 2000 to May 2001, he served as Vice President, Distribution. In June 2001, he was named Senior Vice President, Distribution.

Brown received an Agricultural Engineering degree from the University of Georgia and a

In 1969, Brown joined Georgia Power as a Junior Engineer serving the Dublin district. From 1969 to 1988, Brown continued to receive additional management responsibilities throughout the company. In 1988, he was named Vice President of the Land department. In 1992, Brown became Vice President of Retail Sales and Service and, later that year, he was named Vice President of the metro region. From 1993 to 2000, he served as Vice President of the northern region, and his duties included leadership of power delivery, customer service, sales/mar-

Masters of Business Administration degree from Georgia State University. He is a graduate of the Harvard Business School Advanced Management Development Program and is an alumni of Leadership Atlanta and Leadership Georgia.

Brown is Chairman of the Board of Zoo Atlanta. He also is a board member of Midtown Business Alliance and Piedmont Park Conservancy. He is a member of IEEE, the American Society of Agricultural and Biological Engineers, the National Society of Professional Engineers and EEL's Customer Operations Task Force.